JETSAM & FLOTSAM

SCHOOLS OUT!

Ah, summertime, when the days are long and the skirts are short. Is there any better time of the year?

Allow me to lapse into "Good Old Days Syndrome". Good Old Days Syndrome is when you have fond memories of your past, when everything was platinum, and you didn't have a care in the world. The truth in fact is that we just forget the parts that sucked, and only remember the good stuff. But be careful when you wax on the days gone by; if you re-visit them too often, they don't seem to shine as much as they did when you were younger.

Anyways, I remember when I was a kid and we got out of school for the first day of summer break. For me, that meant getting up early and watching the Price is Right while eating a big bowl of Fruity Pebbles.

Sidebar: I contend that Fruity Pebbles are 99% pure air. Either that or 99% MSG. You can eat a bowl of Fruity Pebbles and still not be full. So you eat another bowl. Still not full. Then a third bowl, followed by a fourth. It got to be so frustrating that my brother would just pour the whole box of Fruity Pebbles into a salad bowl and just eat the whole thing in one sitting.

Oh yes, the Price is Right. Great way to start the day, and Holly, Janice, and Dian were babes. Bob Barker - what a sly dog! Anyhow, after the Price is Right, I'd follow that up with various sitcoms of the 50's and 60's, such as I Love Lucy, Dick Van Dyke, F Troop, McHale's Navy, and Bewitched, just to name a few.

Sidebar: It's important to get all of your television watching out of the way early in the morning. That way you can burn off those Fruity Pebbles and avoid the hottest part of the day, which is the AM.

Okay, after that, it's lunchtime. Sandwich of choice was usually boloney and cheese, or perhaps just plain cheese. All sandwiches must be chased with Kool Aid, preferably cherry or grape. Then it's outdoors time.

For some kids without a lot of outdoors options, a big pile of sand is like finding a freaking goldmine. We'd dig tunnels and make castles in the sand all day long; then we'd come home, sand in every crack and crevice, in our pockets and in our shoes. Tunnel digging in a pile of sand is an art; you must be careful, or GI Joe might just get trapped in a tunnel collapse.

Sidebar: GI Joe isn't some wuss four-inch action figure. The REAL GI Joe was 10 inches tall, had a fuzzy head and beard, kung-fu grip, and eagle-eye action. He had different action uniforms, a footlocker, and cool vehicles.

I was a lucky kid. My parents had the foresight to build a pool. Keep in mind this wasn't a cement pond like the Beverly Hillbillies, but an above-ground pool. But we loved it. Of course we loved it! We were so desperate for water recreation that in our pre-pool days of filling a trash can full of water and jumping into that. Perhaps my parents saw us frolicking in a water-filled trash can and decided that a pool would be more sanitary.

I could go on and on and on about summer break, but I'm out of space. May everyone have a wonderful summer, and may your Fruity Pebbles never run low.

Reaper Miniatures is here for people who love gaming. Our catalog is aimed at those with a love of miniatures, and a passion for gaming. Our goal is to stroke our egos, and at the same time be innovative in the gaming industry. We love to have fun, create new things, push ourselves, make great figures, and embarrass other companies with how well we do what we do!

On the Cover, Warlord rulebook art by Wayne "The Man" Reynolds.

PROOF OF PURCHASE

Made
In The U.S.A.

Now that you've clipped all those Proof of Purchase tags from your blister cards, you've probably been wondering "What good are they?"

They're taking up space in your drawer, and you probably have enough to wallpaper your room. Can you bribe a Reaper employee to get you some stuff? Not Really. Can you trade them to your big sister for a date with her best friend? You could, but then you would be missing out on some cool Reaper swag!

REAPER CON 2004 WRAP UP

Reaper Con 2004 was a great success! People from all over America (including one from Canada and one from Great Britain) showed up at our new building in May for our first annual Reaper Con. It was a ton of fun, from the sculpting and painting seminars, to the Warlord and CAV demos, to Ed's sand table demonstration. The only bad thing is that it only lasted two days. Well, there's always next year! A big "Thank You!" to everyone who attended and we hope to see everyone again next time!

"Everything has gone according to my plan!"

Well, we did it, we finally did it. Nope, we didn't blow up the earth, and we don't have a half-buried Statue of Liberty out back, but we did complete our move into our new, state of the art building in sunny Denton, Texas. Spanning 20,000 square feet, Reaper Miniatures v. 4.0 (or Death Star III, as some call it) is fully armed and operational. We won't be blowing up any planets any time soon, but maybe we can throw rocks at the neighbors or something.

Origins Show Approaches

It's summertime again, so that means convention season is gearing up! June 24-27 Reaper will invade Columbus, Ohio for the Origins Gaming Convention. We will be running demos for CAV and Warlord, and we're easy to find - booth #218 right next to the Paint n' Take area. We aren't going to make it to Gen Con this summer, so this is your chance! We hope to see everyone there!

Jimmy Aliamo

No, he's not the latest winner on American Idol but he could have been if he really wanted to. He is our very own Jimmy, who is a 2004 graduate of Lake Dallas High School! Jimmy joined the Army Reserves last fall and is scheduled for Basic and Military Police training on July 20th. Way to go, good luck and take no prisoners! Wait, then you'd be out of a job. Hold on let me think about this.

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRANDMOM!

ON APRIL 17, 2004, MIRIAM PUGH BECAME A PROUD GRANDMOMMY WHEN HER DAUGHTER MANDEE GAVE BIRTH TO A BOUNCING BABY BOY! MICHAEL THOMAS CLARK IS HIS NAME, AND YOU CAN SEE HIS PICTURE BELOW. CONGRATULATIONS AGAIN TO THE PARENTS AND GRANDPARENTS ON THE NEW MEMBER OF THE FAMILY!

REAPER RON'S VERY OWN MINIATURE

Congratulations to Reaper Ron and his lovely wife Adrienne on the birth of their first child, Connor, on June 18th. As of this writing, the blessed day hasn't arrived, so we thought we'd throw in a picture of Goose performing the Vulcan mind-meld on Ron. Shorty after the mind-meld Ron left to pick up some Fancy Feast. Good luck and best wishes to Adrienne, Connor and Ron!

Your meow to my meow

New Kid on the Block!

Take a look at our newest monster to terrorize your players (or your spouse, for that matter). It's Viridius, another creation from the mad scientist/lumberjack/sculptor Jason Weibe. Viridius has a 16.5" wingspan and is over 9.5" long. Look for more photos in Casket Works #16, and look for Viridius to land in your favorite local game store this fall!

T'Raukzul

"He who seeks treasure in that waste must surely be a fool, for the Shadow of Death, T'Raukzul."

Sculpted by Sandra Garrity
Product Number 10009

Kaladrax

"And with a gesture, the bones of the long dead dragon rose silently into the rank, ashen air. The mass of ribs, femurs, and vertabrae at first were surrounded by a liquid-purple glow, which faded into a tarnished blue as the spell took shape."

The Legendary beast of Adon that refused to die!

Sculpted by Jim Johnson
Product # 10012
$49.99

BOXED

SETS

"A name whispered by heroes, and spoken only by fools. A bloody tale told to frighten children in the night. A terrible legend that no one thought could be true. Until Now..."

Gauth

Approximately 12" tall with a wingspan of 16"

Sculpted by Jim Johnson
Product Number 10006
$79.99

"Summoned from the shadowy pits of the netherworld, Verocithrax glided through the ethereal gloom of the Rift. Shadowfire blazed violently from his nostrils; he would soon not only devour his erstwhile conjuror's body, but his soul as well."

Reaper Movie Review

This time we take a stab at the movie Van Helsing ! "After many years of studying and tracking down the fiend know as "Dracula", I have decided to put my life's findings in a place where vampire hunters around the world will have easy access to. Use wisely these rules and always remember every confrontation has it's own special circumstances. The vampire is a unique beast and it's mutations are as numerous as the stars that fill the night sky. Below is the information that I have complied and it has proved consist in my encounters with nosferatu . Be strong and faithful, and you will be triumphant in this eternal battle against evil." Dr. Van Helsing's Diary

Ron -- Wow, National Lampoon has really sunk to a new low with this movie. I mean, come on, the story of a guy in college who refuses to graduate because...oh, wait a minute. That's Van Wilder. My bad. C+

Kevin -- Best CG Werewolves in any movie period. I mean they got it right with the wolves. Really cool costumes as well and who knew that Matt Clark could act? By the way, Ron can I get one of those crossbows? B+

CavMatt--
Werewolf kills vampire
Nuff said A + +

Medium Matt -- Nice effects. Ok storyline. Interest characters. However, I think it is funny that after falling 200 feet you can get up and walk away but a big doggy jumps on you and it is instant death. I'd give this one a C+

Jay --
Any movie were a werewolf beats up a vampire is a good thing. And that werewolf was very well done! Oh, Kate Bekinsale's costume was awesome. Grade: A-

Ed --
1870 version of James Bond hunting vampires with advanced circa 1700 period weapons. I loved it
Solid A

In our next issue, Chaz Elliott and Ron Hawkins square off in the first ever Reaper "I don't think your funny" Fight.

Brian --

Van Helsing was a great beer and testosterone movie. I liked the CG and the medievil Q. The story line was interesting. Can't wait to see who's in the prequel

Anne --

Well there was this really cool werewolf, but we didn't know who he was. Then, what's-her-bucket's brother turned into this really spiffy other werewolf, but he died. Then, Van Helsing turned into The Bestest Werewolf Of All, and wow, was he ever neat!!

What? Vampires? Where?

Welcome to the newest advice column for Casket Works. Don't worry, Sophie will return next month with more letters, but this issue we're going to (drum roll please)

Ask the Reaper Pets!

Let's get on to it, shall we?

Dear Goose and Maverick,
My husband, whom we'll call "Ed" for this letter, won't stop snoring. Help! This is driving me crazy and I can't sleep! What should I do?

Demented in Denton

Dear Demented,
Well, there are a number of things you could do to get to sleep. Such as...

Sleep? Did someone say sleep?
Sounds like a good...idea...if...zzzzzz...

Maverick! Wake up! We're writing an advice column? Wake up!

Huh? Wha? I wasn't sleeping, I was just resting my eyes...for...a sec...ZZZZZZZ....

Whatever. Anyhow, you could tickle his nose with your tail, I guess. Or maybe you could drool on him. That's what I would do. Then I would shed everywhere. Oh, and maybe eat too. Boy, a bite of Ron's breakfast burrito sounds good right now. Mmm, burrito...what's the question again?

Dear Harley and Teebor,
How do you get a red wine stain out of the carpet?

Irritated in Irving

Dear Irritated,
I say, old chap, that getting red wine out of your carpet is as simple as falling off a log. But, I must say, that I hope that your stain isn't from a fabulous vintage such as a Dom de la Romanee from 1997. That would be a positively dreadful thing to happen, after all that wine was bottled...

Teebor! You go now! Me answer this question! No ducks allowed! Stupid duck. What the question? Oh, stains on carpet. Me know about stains on carpet. Me puke cat food on carpet. Master no like that. Me think you rub Harley's nose in stains to get them out. That what master does. That okay. Me scratch couch with claws, blame on cats. Master chase cats with broom. Dumb cats.

Posterior End

I believe by now you've noticed something new in this issue of Casket Works, an unscheduled, in fact unannounced, price increase.

Reaper's mission statement has been from day one: provide the best possible models for the best possible price. Today, even after this price increase, we still believe we fulfill the objectives of this mission statement.

The price of our models includes several factors, but the two primary costs are labor and metal. Manufacturing in the United States means we have a reasonable and constant labor cost. Tin, the primary metal we use, is on the other hand a commodity whose price is dictated in the open world market. The market price of tin is simply the relationship between the current supplies of tin in the world and the demand for tin by the world.

Since November of 2003, approximately seven months ago, the price of tin on the world market has more than doubled to a 16 year high. The graph at the bottom of the page is taken from the London Metal Exchange website and illustrates vividly the dramatic price increase we are now facing.

Why has tin gone up so much and so fast?

Several factors have contributed to cause this situation and a detailed analysis is beyond the scope of this writing. Simply put though, Southeast Asia and China have always been two major exporters of tin and both are now quickly becoming major consumers of tin as their respective economies develop.

For Reaper, a retail price increase is a major step and one not taken lightly. Our reputation as a leader in the adventure game industry has been built by staying focused on the mission statement that we started the company with 12 years ago.

While I realize an explanation for a price increase is no substitute for a higher price, I believe our customers and fans world-wide deserve some explanation for a sudden increase in the price of their hobby.

Everyone here at Reaper would like to thank you very much for your support concerning this situation.

Best Wishes
Ed Pugh, CEO
Reaper Miniatures, Inc.
